Svante Arrhenius (Sweden, 1887) proposed that acids are substance which yield hydrogen ions (H^+) in aqueous solution and bases are substances which yield hydroxide (OH^-) ions in aqueous solution. Examples of Arrhenius acids are hydrochloric acid (HCl), sulfuric acid (H_2SO_4).

- The equilibrium reaction is described in terms of conjugate acid/base pairs.
- The conjugate base (CB) of a BL acid is the base which forms when the acid has donated a proton.
- The conjugate acid (CA) of a BL base is the acid which forms when the base has accepted a proton.
- A conjugate acid has one more proton than the base has, and a
